Fitz. How fondly doſt thou ſpurre a forward horſe.
If I dare eate, or drinke, or breath, or liue,
I dare meet Surry in a Wilderneſſe,
And ſpit vpon him whilſt I ſay he lyes,
And lyes, and lyes: there is my bond of Fayth,
To tie thee to my ſtrong correction:
As I intend to thriue in this new world,
Aumerle is guiltie of my true appeale.
Beſides, I heare the baniſhed Norffolke ſay:
That thou Aumerle didſt ſend two of thy men
To execute the noble Duke of Calice.

Aum. Some honeſt Chriſtian truſt me with a gage,
That Norfolke lyes, heere do I throw downe this,
If he may be repeald to try his honour?

Bull. Theſe differences ſhall all reſt vnder gage,
Till Norfolke be repeald, repeald he ſhall be,
And Though mine enemie, reſtor'd againe
To all his Lands and Signories: when he is return'd,
Againſt Aumerle we will inforce his triall.

Carl. That honorable day ſhall neuer be ſeene:
Many a time hath baniſht Norfolke fought
For Ieſus Chriſt, in glorious Chriſtian field,
Streaming the Enſigne of the Chriſtian croſſe
Againſt blacke Pagans, Turkes, and Saracens,
And toyld with workes of Warre, retir'd himſelfe
To Italy, and there at Venice gaue
His Body to a pleaſant countries earth,
And his pure ſoule vnto his Captaine Chriſt,
Vnder whoſe colours he had fought ſo long.

Bull. Why Biſhop, is Norffolke dead?

Carl. As ſure as I liue, my Lord.

Bull. Sweet peece conduct his ſweet ſoule to the boſome
Of good old Abraham: Lords appellants,
Your differences ſhall all reſt vnder gage,
Till we aſsigne you to your dayes of triall.

Enter Yorke,

Yorke. Great Duke of Lancaſter, I come to thee,

From

From plume-pluckt Richard, who
Adopts thee Heire, and his high
To the poſſeſſion of thy royall h
Aſcend his Throne, deſcending
And long liue Henrie, fourth of

Bul. In Gods name, Ile aſcen

Carl. Mary God forbid.
Worſt in this Royall preſence I
Yet beſt beſeeming me to ſpeak
Would God any in this noble pr
Were enough noble to be vprig
Of noble Richard: Then true n
Learne him forbearance from ſo
What ſubiect can giue ſentence
And who ſits heere that is not Ri
Theeues are not iudged, but the
Although apparant guilt be ſeen
And ſhall the figure of Gods Ma
His Captaine, Steward, deputie,
Annointed, crowned, planted m
Be iudg'd by ſubiect and inferior
And he himſelfe not preſent? O
That in a Chriſtian Climate ſou
Should ſhew ſo hainous blacke
I ſpeake to ſubiects, and a ſubiec
Stird vp by God thus boldly for
My Lord of Hereford here whon
Is a foule traitor to proud Herefo
And if you Crowne him, let me
The blood of Engliſh ſhall manu
And future ages groane for his fo
Peace ſhall goe ſleepe with Turk
And in this ſeate of peace, tumul
Shall kin with kin, and kind with
Diſorder, horror, feare and mut
Shall heere inhabit, and this lan
The field of Golgotha and dead

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE Richard II (STC 22312) LONDON, 1615 UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH